

UPUB 722-001

Outlook

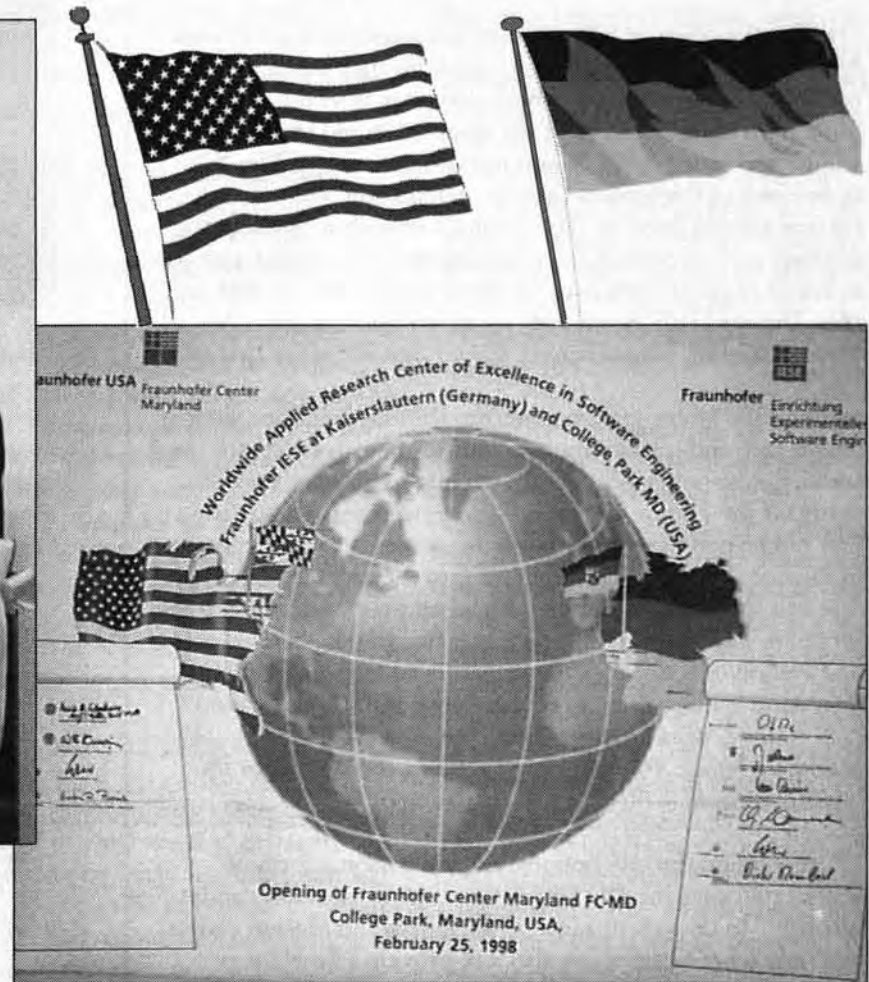

The University of Maryland Faculty and Staff Weekly Newspaper
Volume 12 • Number 21 • March 3, 1998

Eclipse Event, page 2
Diversity Calendar, page 3
Dateline Maryland, page 4

Germany, Maryland Form Partnership for Software Engineering Center

Victor Basili, pictured above center, and other dignitaries prepare to cut the ribbon officially opening the Fraunhofer Center-Maryland.

Fraunhofer Center-Maryland is open for business. In a ribbon-cutting ceremony last Wednesday, the innovative German-U.S. software engineering, applied research and technology transfer center officially opened its doors.

Under the direction of professor Victor Basili, the center will assist companies by offering them ways to better control, manage, predict, improve and evaluate their software efforts. "It opens up the world for us," says Basili, noting that the center offers an opportunity for the university to attract more people.

The non-profit Fraunhofer Center-Maryland is now the fifth member of Fraunhofer USA, the American subsidiary of Europe's largest organization for applied technological research and development, Fraunhofer Gesellschaft. The mission of Fraunhofer USA and its parent organization is to help industry by providing customized technology, research, development and deployment.

All of the centers developed from the original Fraunhofer Institute at Germany's University of Kaiserslautern. It was that university's president Guenther Warnecke, who joined University of Maryland Pres. William E. Kirwan, German federal minister of education, research science and technology Juergen Ruetters, secretary of the Maryland Department of Business and Economic Development James Brady, and Fraunhofer USA president Dirk Polter in signing a "poster" of cooperation (pictured above, right).

Ceremonies began Wednesday night at Kirwan's residence with brief talks by principal attendees and the signing of the poster. The group then traveled to the Agriculture/Life Sciences Surge Building, site of the new center, for additional presentations and the ribbon cutting ceremony. Joining Basili and others in making remarks was Dieter Rombach, director of the affiliated Fraunhofer Institute for Experimental Software Engineering in Kaiserslautern and a former professor here at Maryland.

Hawley Resigning, Search Committee Appointed

Willis Hawley, dean of the College of Education is relinquishing his position July 1 to manage the $23 million, five-year National Partnership grant he received last fall. Provost Gregory Geoffroy has appointed a Search Committee to institute a national search for his replacement.

The grant, the National Partnership for Excellence and Accountability in Teaching (NPEAT), is a national effort aimed at bringing together stakeholders across the educational spectrum to identify the most effective ways to improve the quality of teaching in America's schools. The U.S. Department of Education selected the university to coordinate NPEAT.

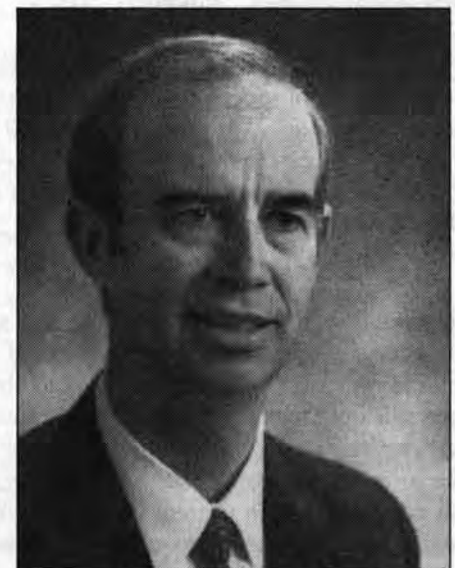

In addition to managing the grant, Hawley, who has been dean since 1993, will assume a position as professor of education and public affairs in the department of education policy, planning and administration July 1. He will continue to serve the college and share his experience and expertise in the classroom, says Geoffroy.

Hawley says he enjoys and feels rewarded by being dean of the college, but believes he has an unusual opportunity to influence national education policy. By remaining on the faculty and leading the National Partnership, he can continue to serve the college, he says.

"We are extremely pleased with Dean Hawley's successful effort to bring the grant to the University of Maryland," says Geoffroy. "We also appreciate his dedicated service as dean and his commitment to the advancement of quality and excellence in the college."

Geoffroy has asked Thomas Weible, professor of curriculum and instruction, to serve as interim dean from July 1 until a new dean arrives.

As Hawley prepares to step down, a search committee will begin its quest for the person best

—continued on page 2

verbatim

A selection of recent comments in the media by and about the University of Maryland and its people.

"The world is going to miss Julian Simon, who died unexpectedly Feb. 8 at a vigorously young 65. This professor of marketing at the University of Maryland Business School and onetime businessman almost 20 years ago started bringing the truth about environmental problems — or at least a closer approximation to it than anybody else — to a public shaken by gloomy forecasts from better-credentialed media 'stars.'" (Boston Sunday Herald, Feb. 15, in an editorial, "Julian Simon, Truth-Teller")

"The recent death of Julian Simon was a special loss because he was one of those people who took on the thankless task of talking sense on a subject where nonsense is all the rage ... With a full understanding of the opposition and smears he would encounter, Julian Simon nevertheless wrote 'The Economics of Population Growth,' 'Population Matters' and — his best-known book — 'The Ultimate Resource.' To him, the ultimate resource was human intelligence. We should also add, in honor of Julian Simon, the courage to use that intelligence." (Los Angeles Daily News, Feb. 13, in an opinion piece by Thomas Sowell, "World misses fighter against mass hysteria.")

"Around the globe, governments are shifting functions such as health care and telecommunications to the private sector. As a result, public-policy schools are striving to prepare their students for the culture of business. Maryland was among the first public-policy schools to require students to take courses in finance, and many classes delve into the conflicts of interest that can spring up as the lines between public and private sectors blur. Says Michael Brintnall, director of the National Association of Schools of Public Affairs and Administration: 'Maryland is one of the more innovative schools of its kind.'" (U.S. News & World Report, Mar. 2, in a feature story on the School of Public Affairs, ranked 20th in the nation in the "Best Graduate Schools" issue.)

"By redefining the city boundaries, and by some form of shared rule over the Old City, the Jerusalem question can be resolved. To do so will address Palestinian and Muslim claims, and thus what is righteous also will provide a basis for peace and security. (Jewish Journal, Fort Lauderdale, Fla., Feb. 12, in an opinion piece, "Security, morality demands sharing with Palestinians," by Jerome Segal, director of the Jewish Project at the Center for International and Security Studies and president of the Jewish Peace Lobby)

"We don't want big government, but we do want big programs." (Allen Schick, professor in the School of Public Affairs, as quoted by Robert J. Samuelson in his Feb. 16 Newsweek column, "Judgment Calls")

"You cannot attribute a single storm to El Nino, or even this entire regime of recent storms ... It looks suspicious, but you need to see more. You have to wait until after the season is over and you can look at the whole pattern." (Eugene Rasmusson, senior research scientist in meteorology, in a Feb. 10 story, "Storms Aren't Proof of El Nino," in the Los Angeles Times)

"It would be ironic if the computer, this great device of interconnectivity, should engender a world of isolationists. Yet increasingly we use its powers to read about ourselves and to feed our own parochial self-interests. Instead of a global village, we risk a race of cyber-hermits. And the World Wide Web, the promised bridge to that which is beyond ourselves, may be yet another moat to protect the self-absorbed." (Ted Gup, visiting professor of journalism, in a commentary, "The end of serendipity," in the Feb. issue of Reading Today)

Solar Eclipse Covers Campus

Above, a member of the astronomy department dismantles one of the three telescopes used on McKeldin Mall last Thursday. Right, Siobhan Dinyes, a research assistant in the astronomy department, catches a protected glimpse of the eclipse. Below, students enjoy the warm weather with their canine friends on the Mall.

It wasn't unusual to see people staring at the sun Thursday afternoon. As springtime weather gave its February preview, students flocked to McKeldin mall for a day in the sun. The Department of Astronomy set up telescopes at the sundial for faculty and students to view the solar eclipse, which lasted between noon and 2 p.m. last Thursday. The department set up two telescopes which were used to project the image of the sun onto a screen. A third telescope equipped with a filter provided participants a chance to directly view the solar image.

photos by Phillip Wirtz

Hawley Resigning, Search Committee Appointed

Continued from page 1

suited to lead the top-ranked College of Education into the 21st century. Led by James Harris, dean of the College of Arts and Humanities, the search committee includes:

Patricia Alexander, professor, human development

Cordell Black, assistant vice president for Academic Affairs

Patricia Campbell, associate professor, curriculum and instruction

James Cibulka, professor and chair, education policy, planning and administration

Gregory Hancock, assistant professor, measurement, statistics and evaluation

Karen Harris, professor, special education

Michael Hickey, superintendent, Howard County Public Schools

Blesilda Lim, research coordinator (business manager), special education

Donald Pope-Davis, associate professor, counseling and personnel services

Jennifer Rice, assistant professor, education policy, planning and administration

Tomas Riojas, graduate student, counseling and personnel services

Gary Rubloff, professor, materials and nuclear engineering and director, Institute for Systems Research

Linda Valli, associate professor, curriculum and instruction

Engrid Chiu-Ying Wu, undergraduate, human development

Sheila Mahaffy, Office of the Vice President for Academic Affairs, staff support to the search committee.

Outlook

Outlook is the weekly faculty-staff newspaper serving the University of Maryland campus community. Vice President for University Advancement Reid Crawford, Acting Executive Director of University Communications and Director of Marketing Teresa Flannery, Executive Editor Roland King, Editor Jennifer Hawes, Assistant Editor Linda Scott, Editorial Interns Kelley Fitzgerald, Phillip Wirtz. Letters to the editor, story suggestions and campus information are welcome. Please submit all material two weeks before the Tuesday of publication. Send material to Editor, Outlook, 2101 Turner Hall, College Park, MD 20742. Telephone (301) 405-4629; e-mail outlook@accmail.umd.edu; fax (301) 314-9344. Outlook can be found online at www.inform.umd.edu/outlook/

Diversity: It's Your Future ➤ March Focus on Diversity

All Month

Women's History Month Bookfair. University Book Center, Lower Level, Stamp Student Union. 20% off all women's history-related books in stock (textbooks excluded). Contact Ron Jett, 314-BOOK (2665) or visit <http://www.inform.umd.edu/ubc>.

Coffee and Conversation for Returning Students. Mondays, noon-2 p.m., Counseling Center, Shoemaker Building. Contact Beverly Greenfeig or Barbara Goldberg, 314-7693.

★★★★

March 4, 5:15 p.m., Hornbake Library, 4th Floor, Room R
"At the River I Stand," a documentary of historical events in Atlanta that shows how the community, civil rights leaders, and unions got together with Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. Sponsored by AFSCME. Seating is limited and free. Contact Yvette Nickerson, 405-9005.

March 9-13 is Women of Color Week. Each day a different event will occur highlighting the accomplishments and contributions to the campus community of women of color.

March 9, 11 a.m.-1 p.m., Maryland Room, Marie Mount Hall
Potluck lunch to celebrate Women of Color Week. Share a favorite dish representing your culture and share a story, music, poetry or art that reflects your heritage. Contact Andrianna, 405-3320 or Irene, 405-3830.

March 10, Showcase, Stamp Student Union
March 10 highlights the Women of Color exhibit that will present photographs and biographies of past winners of the Woman of Color of the Year Awards, as well as background information about the award and cultural artifacts.

March 11, 3-5 p.m., Colony Ballroom, Stamp Student Union
Leadership and Academic Excellence Awards Program for Students with Disabilities. Co-sponsored by the Committee for Women of Color and Disability Support Services. Refreshments and door prizes. Contact Dottie, 405-5618.

March 12, 1-3 p.m., Multi-purpose Room, St. Mary's Hall
Women of Color of the Year Award Ceremony. Celebrate "Listening to Women's Voices—Growing Stronger Through Community Service" with multi-ethnic cuisine and entertainment. The seventh annual award to the Woman of Color of the Year will be presented. Key note speaker is Juanita Neconie, a member of the Pawnee Nation, respected leader and elder in the Native American community, and an employee at the Indian Health Service. Contact Andrianna, 405-3320.

March 13, noon-2 p.m., Multi-purpose Room, St. Mary's Hall
Talent Showcase, the final event of Women of Color Week, is a brown bag lunch with student cultural groups providing entertainment and education through dance and music. Punch will be provided. Contact Joann, 314-0647.

March 10, 7:30 p.m., 0125 Jimenez Hall
United Cultures Town Hall Meeting: Cultural Violence. A frank discussion on cultural violence in today's society. Contact dsalob@wam.umd.edu.

DIVERSITY
AT UMCP
MOVING TOWARD COMMUNITY

March 11, 3-5 p.m., Location TBA
"Education and the African-American Family," a discussion sponsored by the Committee on Africa in the Americas. Free. Contact Cerue Diggs, 405-6835 or 405-7856.

March 12, 4:30 p.m., Hoff Theater, Stamp Student Union

"The Politics of Race and Reconciliation," a presentation by Cornel West, Distinguished Professor of African-American Studies at Harvard University and author of Race Matters. Contact the department of education policy, planning & administration, 405-3574. Admission is free, but tickets are required and will be available on March 10, noon-4 p.m. at the Hoff Box Office; March 11, 9 a.m.-9 p.m. at the Student Union Information Desk; and March 12, 1-4 p.m. at the Hoff Box Office. A book signing will precede the speech at 3:15 p.m. in the Atrium, Stamp Student Union.

March 12, 3:30-5 p.m., Taliaferro Hall, Room 1103
"Gender Does Not Mean Women: Issues of Gender in American Studies." The terms gender and women are often considered synonymous. This panel invites interdisciplinary discussion of the commonalities and particularities between these often misunderstood terms. Contact Psyche Williams, department of American studies, sojournr@wam.umd.edu.

March 13, 8 p.m.; pre-concert seminar at 6:30 p.m.
The Inn and Conference Center, University of Maryland University College
Vogler Quartet of Berlin. The 1986 First Prize winners at the Evian International String Quartet Competition, together with Canadian pianist Angela Cheng, perform Dvorak's Piano Quintet in A Major, plus works for string quartet by Stravinsky and Schumann. $22 regular admission, $9.50 students, 10% discount for faculty, staff and Alumni Association members, $2.50 discount for seniors. Contact David Gaines, 403-4239.

March 18, 3-5 p.m., Location TBA
"Public Policy and Response," a panel discussion. Sponsored by the Committee on Africa in the Americas. Free. Contact Cerue Diggs, 405-6835 or 405-7856.

March 20, 10 a.m.-12 p.m., 0200 Skinner Building
Distinguished Lecturer Barbara Ehrenreich will speak on Welfare Reform. Contact: Laura Nichols, Women's Studies Department, 405-6877.

March 20, 8 p.m., pre-concert seminar at 6:30 p.m.
The Inn and Conference Center, University of Maryland University College.
Flamenco Vivo Carlota Santana. The essence of Flamenco, and its Spanish, Judaic, Arabic, Indian, Latino, African, and Gypsy influences, presented by this brilliant ensemble of dancers and musicians. $23 regular admission, $9.50 students, 10% discount for faculty, staff and Alumni Association members, $2.50 discount for seniors. Contact David Gaines, 403-4239.

March 29, 7:30 p.m., pre-concert seminar at 6 p.m.
Ulrich Recital Hall, Tawes Fine Arts Building
Elena Papandreou, solo guitar. One of Greece's premier classical guitarists plays music by Bach, Sor, Stravinsky, and others. $22 regular admission, $9.50 students, 10% discount for faculty, staff and Alumni Association members, $2.50 discount for seniors. Contact David Gaines 403-4239.

Date TBA. Ritchie Coliseum
United Cultures Cross-Cultural Olympics. Student groups of varying backgrounds are teamed up to compete in a series of events designed to foster unity and understanding. Contact dsalob@wam.umd.edu.

• NOMINATIONS are now being accepted for the Fourth Annual Diversity Initiative Award, presented each year to one individual from each of the following bodies: faculty, classified staff, associate staff, and student. The award recognizes significant contributions to the Diversity Initiative's mission, which is to build an inclusive campus community grounded in respect for differences. The winners' contributions will be innovative and unique, and will demonstrate great impact, breadth and depth of improvement of the campus environment. Nominations, marked "Diversity Initiative Awards," are due by March 13 to the Office of Human Relations Programs, 1107 Hornbake Library. Contact 405-2838.

• DEADLINE for submissions to the Diversity Initiative's Second Annual Student Essay Contest is March 31. Undergraduate and graduate students are invited to submit essays answering the question, "What is your vision of a global village and how do you as a student contribute to making it a reality at the University of Maryland?" Entry forms can be picked up at the Stamp Student Union Information Desk, Resident Life Service Desks, Office of Human Relations Programs and at <http://www.inform.umd.edu/EDRES/Topic/Diversity/Response/UMCP/Programs/Initiative>. First, second and third place prizes will be awarded. To place your event in April's "Focus on Diversity" calendar, e-mail information to Virginia Rodino at rodino@wam.umd.edu or call 405-2838 no later than March 19. Priority will be given to events that focus on religion or sexual orientation.

What's in a Grade?

The University Honors Center for Learning will address issues in ways to design new learning environments Wednesday, March 4, from 12:30-2 p.m. The meeting, "Is this for a Grade?", will be held in the Anne Arundel Lounge.

The topic will focus on the grading system and how it motivates and affects students. Panelists will include Verlyn Flieger (English), Lucy McFadden (Astronomy) and Howard Smead (University Honors). Those attending are encouraged to bring questions and experiences to share on grading. To register, call Kathleen Staudt at 405-1102.

Fearful of Technology?

The Sixth Annual Teaching with Technology symposium will be held Friday, March 6, from 1 to 4 p.m. in 0106 Francis Scott Key Hall and Monday, March 9, from 9 a.m. to noon in 4404 Computer Space Sciences Building. The showcase will display the diverse technologies used by campus faculty, representing a broad range of disciplines. The event is co-sponsored by Academic Information Technology Services and the Center for Teaching Excellence. For more information call 405-2938.

Senate Meets March 5

The next College Park Senate meeting on Thursday, March 5 convenes at 3:15 p.m. in Room 0200 Skinner Building. The agenda includes items from the Committee for Education Affairs and the Committee for Elections, Representation, and Governance. The Executive Committee will report on the Flagship Initiative. All meetings of the Senate are open to the campus community, however certain suggested guidelines are to be followed on the Senate floor.

For more information contact Marty Vitale at the Senate Office on 301-405-1243.

FOR YOUR INTEREST

dateline maryland

march 3-12

3 March

Computer Training

9 a.m.-noon. Introduction to FileMaker Pro-Macintosh-based database application. Electronic registration at www.inform.umd.edu/ShortCourse. Computer & Space Sciences Bldg. 5-4261.*

Agriculture Seminar

11:30 a.m.-1:30 p.m. "The Role of the USDA Partnership in International Development and Education," I. Miley Gonzalez, Under Secretary for Research, Education & Economics, U.S. Department of Agriculture. Atrium, Stamp Student Union. Call for reservations, 5-2072.

Library Learning

1-2:30 p.m. Tangled in the Web? An introduction to using the Web effectively, including how to critically evaluate Web sites, as well as highlights of the Libraries' Web resources. Library User Education Services. 4M100E McKeldin Library. 5-9254.

Lecture

4 p.m. Department of Physics: "Fluctuations in Materials Science," Ellen Williams, professor of physics; and director, Materials Research Science and Engineering Center. 1410 Physics Building. 5-5945.

Library Learning

4-5:30 p.m. Where do I Start? Introduces the basics of finding books and other library materials in VICTOR, the online catalog, and journal articles in journal indexes. Library User Education Services. 3203 Hornbake Library. 5-9254.

Learn CPR

6-9:30 p.m. CPR Class: Learn adult CPR and Heimlich maneuver techniques. Must register and pay in advance in Room 2118 of the University Health Center. 3100E University Health Center. 4-8132.*

4 March

Training & Development Seminar

9 a.m.-4:30 p.m. "Seven Habits of Highly Effective People." This three-day program continues on March 11 and 18. The Stephen R. Covey program is a holistic, integrated, principle-centered approach for solving personal and professional problems. Van Munching Hall. 5-5651.*

Library Learning

11:30 a.m.-1 p.m. When is Your Paper Due? A class for the student preparing to research and write a substantial paper, report or proposal in the social sciences. The class is offered in three disciplines: Arts & Humanities, Social Sciences, and Science & Technology. Also offered from 4:30-6 p.m. today. 4M100G McKeldin Library. 5-9254.

Lectures

Noon-1 p.m. MCB Spring 1998 Seminar Series: "Coiled Bodies and Histone pre-mRNA Processing," Michel Bellini, department of embryology, Carnegie Institution of Washington.

4-5 p.m. Department of Astronomy: "Structure and Heating of Coronal Loops," James Klimchuck, U.S. Naval Observatory. 2400 Computer & Space Sciences Bldg.

Library Learning

3-4 p.m. Lost in the Library? For new library users and transfer students Highlights getting to the libraries, finding your way around, and using library materials. 4137 McKeldin Library. 5-9254.

Computer Training

6-9 p.m. Intermediate Microsoft Excel: Learn important skills in creating 2D and 3D charts, sheet grouping and data manipulation, block naming, customizing sheet labels, macros, and more. Preferred prerequisite: Intro. to Excel or equivalent experience. 4404 Computer & Space Sciences Bldg. 5-2940/2945.*

A Night of Poetry

7-8 p.m. Poetry Reading by Tom Sleight and Alan Shapiro. Sponsored by Writers Here & Now. Graduate Reserves Room, McKeldin Library.

5 March

Training & Development Seminar

9 a.m.-2 p.m. "Employee Relations & the Supervisor." A practical approach for creating the foundation in this environment. Participants will develop skills and strategies needed to solve problems when confronting the supervisor. 1101U Chesapeake Bldg. 5-5651.

Computer Training

9 a.m.-noon. Introduction to FileMaker Pro - Macintosh-based database application. Electronic registration at www.inform.umd.edu/ShortCourses. 5-4261.*

Library Learning

1:30-3 p.m. Where Do I Start? See March 3 entry for details. 3203 Hornbake Library. 5-9254.

3-4:30 p.m. When is Your Paper Due? See March 4 entry for details. 4M100G McKeldin Library. 5-9254.

Lectures

3:30 p.m. Department of Meteorology: "Hurricanes in Weather Forecasts and in the Simulated Warm Climate," Yoshio Kurihara, Geophysical Fluid Dynamics Lab./NOAA, Princeton University. 2324 Computer & Space Sciences Bldg.

5:15 p.m. Department of Materials and Nuclear Engineering: "The Effects of Complexity and Redundancy on the Reliability of Ship Systems," Patrick Hartman, Naval Sea Systems Command. 1100 ITV.

University Theatre

8 p.m. "Dancing at Lughnasa," by Brian Friel. A heartfelt story about family, perseverance and the human spirit. Tawes Theatre. 5-2201.*

6 March

Library Learning

9:30-11 a.m. When is your paper due? A class for the student preparing to research and write a substantial paper, report or proposal in the social sciences. The class is offered in three disciplines: Arts & Humanities, Social Sciences, and Science & Technology. 4M100G McKeldin Library. 5-9254.

Conference

1-4 p.m. "Teaching With Technology." Faculty presenters discuss innovation and application of technology in the classroom. Details and registration at www.inform.umd.edu/TWT. 0106 Francis Scott Key Hall. 5-2938/2945.

University Theatre

8 p.m. "Dancing at Lughnasa," by Brian Friel. 1992 Tony Award Winner for Best Play. A heartfelt story about family, perseverance and the human spirit. Tawes Theatre. 5-2201.*

7 March

Fashion Show

10 a.m.-5 p.m. University of Maryland Bridal Showcase. Exclusive door prizes, two fashion shows, more than 85 top local wedding exhibitors. Meet Lisa Lisa from 93.9 KISS FM, live string quartet entertainment, delicious cake and Swann's chocolates. Stamp Student Union. 4-8015.

Library Learning

11 a.m.-12:30 p.m. Where Do I Start? See March 3 entry for details. 4M100E McKeldin Library. 5-9254.

1:30-3 p.m. Tangled in the Web? See March 3 entry for details. 4M100E McKeldin Library. 5-9254.

University Theatre

8 p.m. "Dancing at Lughnasa," by Brian Friel. A heartfelt story about family, perseverance and the human spirit. Tawes Theatre. 5-2201.*

8 March

Auditions

10 a.m. Dance Department Auditions for Creative and Performing Arts Scholarship in Dance. Dance Bldg. 5-3180.

Computer Training

1-4 p.m. "Introduction to HTML." Covers skills needed to create a Web page in HTML, Web addresses (URLs) and what they denote plus formatting elements. Insertion of static graphics images and the set up of graphics as "clickable" hyperlinks also covered. 4404 Computer & Space Sciences Bldg. 5-2940/2945.*

University Theatre

2 p.m. "Dancing at Lughnasa," by Brian Friel. A heartfelt story about family, perseverance and the human spirit. Tawes Theatre. 5-2201.*

School of Music

8 p.m. Duo Antidogma Musica, contemporary European music. Ulrich Recital Hall. 5-1150.

9 March

Computer Training

9 a.m.-noon. "Teaching With Technology." Faculty presenters discuss innovation and application of technology in the classroom. Details and registration at www.inform.umd.edu/TWT. Ticket required. 4404 Computer & Space Sciences Bldg. 5-2938/2945.

Library Learning

9:30-11 a.m. When is Your Paper Due? See March 3 entry for details. 4M100G McKeldin Library. 5-9254.

5-6:30 p.m. Where do I Start? See March 3 entry for details. 3203 Hornbake Library. 5-9254

Computer Training

6-9 p.m. "Internet Technologies." Teaches patrons useful skills to transfer documents between your personal computer and remote computer using FTP, reading and participation in public newsgroups, subscribing to private discussion groups (Listserv's) and attaching documents to e-mail. 3330 Computer & Space Sciences Bldg. 5-2940/2945.*

10 March

University Theatre

8 p.m. "Dancing at Lughnasa," by Brian Friel. A heartfelt story about family, perseverance and the human spirit. Tawes Theatre. 5-2201.*

Library Learning

10-11:30 p.m. When is Your Paper Due? See March 4 entry for details. Also offered from 1:30-3 p.m. today. 4M100G McKeldin Library. 5-9254.

Noon-1 p.m. Buffet luncheon and lecture. Martha Nell Smith, English department, speaks about creating a female dominion in American reform. Make reservations by March 4. Co-sponsored by the AAUW, College Park Branch and the Maryland University Club. Carriage House, Rossborough Inn.

Computer Training

2-3 p.m. Web Clinic. 4404 Computer & Space Sciences Bldg. 5-2938.

2-3:30 p.m. Tangled in the Web? See March 3 entry for details. 4M100E McKeldin Library. 5-9254

Lecture

4 p.m. Department of Physics: "Sliding Friction: Physical Principles and Applications," with Bo Persson, Institute for Nuclear Research, Julich, Germany. 1410 Physics Building. 5-5945.

4-5 p.m. Department of Astronomy: "How Galaxies Don't Form," Stacey McGaugh, Rutgers University. 2400 Computer & Space Sciences.

Computer Training

6-9 p.m. "Intermediate Unix." Learn what permissions are, what they mean, how to change them, setting up simple scripts, archiving and file compression utilities. 4404 Computer & Space Sciences Bldg. 5-2940/2945.*

6-9 p.m. "Introduction to Microsoft Excel." Learn what a spreadsheet can do for you. Windows 3.1 or 95 experience would be very helpful. 4404 Computer & Space Sciences Bldg. 5-2940/2945.*

11 March

Lecture

Noon-12:50 p.m. "Sounding the Humanities." A discussion of "Dancing at Lughnasa" with off-campus guest speaker. 0154 Tawes Fine Arts Bldg. 5-2201.

Library Learning

2:30-4 p.m. Where do I Start? See March 3 entry for details. 3203 Hornbake Library. 5-9254.

Computer Training

6-9 p.m. "Windows 95." Introduces the world's most popular operating system and how to use its desktop and file management system. Tasks covered include understanding desktop components, finding files, changing filenames, copying and moving files. 5-2940/2945.*

12 March

Library Learning

1-2 p.m. Lost in the Library? See March 4 entry for details.

Computer Training

4-7 p.m. "Basic Training." Learn how to navigate the World Wide Web with ease, understand URLs, bookmarking, and efficiency tips. 4404 Computer & Space Sciences Bldg. 5-2940/2945.*

Lectures

3:30 Department of Meteorology: "Role of ENSO and Rossby Waves in Modifying Eastern North Pacific Temperatures," John Spiesberger, department of meteorology, Penn. State University. 2324 Computer & Space Sciences Bldg.

4-5 p.m. Department of Astronomy: "OSO Absorption Systems-The Signature of High Redshift Structure Formation?" Michael Rauch, California Institute of Technology. 2428 Computer & Space Sciences Bldg.

4:30 p.m. Department of Education Policy, Planning & Administration: "U.S. Communities and the Politics of Reconciliation," Cornel West, Harvard University, Distinguished Professor of African-American Studies. Hoff Theater, Stamp Student Union.

Library Learning

6-7:30 p.m. When is your Paper Due? See March 4 entry for details.

University Theatre

8 p.m. "Dancing at Lughnasa," by Brian Friel. A heartfelt story about family, perseverance and the human spirit. Tawes Theatre. 5-2201.*